

SIR World Report 2010 :: Global Ranking

Introduction

We are presenting here the Second Edition of SIR World Reports, aiming at serving as a major analysis and evaluation resource for Research Institutions across the world. The report shows quantitative data related to citation and publication in the period 2004-2008 for worldwide research-devoted institutions with at least 100 scientific documents published during 2008, as collected by worldwide leader scientific database Scopus.

The report embraces universities and other research-focused organizations from different sizes, having different missions and belonging to countries from the five continents. The institutions are grouped into five Institutional Sectors: Higher Education, Health System, Government Agencies, Corporations and Others.

The actual four indicators showed throughout the report have been selected to offer relevant information to policymakers, research managers and researchers as well as media and public interested in finding out about research performance of worldwide Institutions. They aim at highlighting the main dimensions of research activity.

To elaborate this report, we carried out the challenging task of identifying and disambiguating all the institutions through an overwhelming number of scientific articles, reviews and conference papers contained in Scopus. The task, which is carried out by a mix of computer and human means, comprises the identification and gathering of institution's affiliation variants under a unique identifiable form as well as the classification into institutional sectors.

SIR World Reports 2010 is the most exhaustive and comprehensive ranking of Worldwide Research Institutions. The ranking includes 2,833 institutions that together are responsible for 80.55% of worldwide scientific output during the term 2004-08 as indexed in Scopus database.

New Features

This year, SIR World Report 2010 brings a number of new features that will help offer a wider vision of research activity at worldwide research institutions; these include subject rankings, research excellence labels, and regional and national ranks.

From this edition on and in addition to this Global Ranking, SIR World Reports will include four additional subject rankings each covering a major scientific area, grouped together in Health Sciences, Life Sciences, Physical Sciences and Social Sciences & Humanities.

This year's edition presents more informative tables. Besides institutions' countries, regions and institutional sectors the tables show ranks on the regional and national contexts. In addition, institutions are now labeled according to its Research Excellence into one of three categories on the basis of their corresponding value of Normalized Impact (See Normalized Impact description on the right side of this document):

- Green label NI value higher than 1.75
- Yellow label NI between 1 and 1.75
- Red label NI values lower than 1

Indicators

Selected indicators seek to reveal main aspects of research size, performance, impact and internationalization at Worldwide Research Institutions.

O::Output

An institution's publication output reveals its scientific outcomes in terms of published documents in scholarly journals.

IC::International Collaboration

This value shows the institution's output ratio that has been produced in collaboration with foreign institutions. The values are computed by analyzing the institution's output whose affiliation includes more than one country address over the whole period.

NI::Normalized Impact

This indicator reveals the ratio between the average scientific impact of an institution and the world average impact of publications of the same time period and subject area. The values are expressed in percentages and show the relationship of the institution's average impact to the world average, which is 1, - i.e. a score of 0.8 means the institution is cited 20% below average and 1.3 means the institution is cited 30% above average. More on this indicator at:

<http://www.scimagoir.com/methodology.php?page=indicators>

Q1::High Quality Publications

Ratio of publications that an institution publishes in the most influential scholarly journals of the world. Journals considered for this indicator are those ranked in the first quartile (25%) in their categories as ordered by SCImago Journal Rank SJR indicator.

SIR Overall Figures

The 2010 edition of the SIR World Report includes 2,833 Research Institutions belonging to 87 countries across the world. It shows a highly uneven distribution both in the number of institutions per country and world region; the number of institutions settled in the Top 10 Countries by Institutions represents more than 60% of all institutions. By countries, USA leads the tables with 485 institutions (twice as many as the second one) followed by China with 247, Japan 175, Great Britain 144, France 136, Spain 135, Deutschland and Italy 124, and India 102, all of them over 100 institutions.

Institutions by World Region
Africa	58
Asia	727
Eastern Europe	172
Latin America	155
Middle East	88
Northern America	563
Oceania	81
Western Europe	987

We are showing here Box and Whisker Plots of NI per World Regions and Research Sectors respectively. A score of one on the X axis corresponds to world citation average, so all institutions having higher values will be above one. The boxes represent the institutions included between 25% and 75% of the distributions; the median point into the boxes divides the distributions in two parts with the exact number of institutions. Upper and lower ends lines show institutions that perform best and worst under this indicator.

Publishing in high quality journals

The reports clarify that it exists a relationship between the ability an institution has to publish in the best journals – as measured by Q1 – and the impact caused by its research activity over the scientific community. This relationship shows a model of growth that tends to be exponential, and therefore, high success quotes in the improvement of research visibility of institutions as long as they achieve to situate their publications on high quality journals. In addition, this situation has generally little to do with institutions sizes. In the light of this, it seems advisable to analyze this phenomenon when setting policies aiming to raise international visibility of research outcomes at institutions.

Higher Education Institutions represent the core of the institutions included in the ranking, 1848 in total, Government and Health sectors have significant amounts of institutions as well, with 341 and 538 respectively. The Green Label of Research Excellence – NI higher than 1.75 – has been obtained by 375 institutions, mainly Health Institutions.

Sector	Green	Yellow	Red	Total
Government	58	193	90	341
Health	183	244	111	538
Higher educ.	86	799	963	1848
Others	9	8	4	21
Private	39	28	18	85
Total	375	1272	1186	2833

Research Performance

SIR World Report 2010 shows two indicators to help assess it. On one hand Normalized Impact – NI – contextualizes citation using subject areas, publication types and citation periods, minimizing this way the influence of institution sizes and profiles. NI values relate the citation an institution receive comparing to world average which is equals to one for this indicator, that is, a institution showing a NI of two is cited twice as much as the world average (for documents in the same subject, type and period). And on the other Q1 shows the ratio of scientific publications (articles, reviews and conference papers) that an institution manages to publish in the 25% of the most influence journal as ranked by the SIR indicator.
